

Diagnostic Medical Sonography Program Update

This is to inform you that the Diagnostic Medical Sonography (DMS) Program will not be offered during this academic year until further notice.

Please know that this decision has been made carefully. Our team is diligently working to ensure that all program components are fully aligned and that we have the necessary resources in place to provide the highest quality academic experience. Our goal is to best serve our students and the healthcare needs of our community. Please be assured that the prerequisite courses completed by applicants will be honored and considered when the sonography program restarts.

At this time, we are not able to confirm an exact timeline for when the program will reopen; however, updates will be communicated as soon as they become available. We encourage you to continue checking the college website for official announcements. We appreciate your understanding and patience as we continue these efforts.

Thank you,

Hortencia González EdD, MBA, BS, RT(R), RDMS, RDCS

Associate Professor of Diagnostic Imaging and Program Director

Laredo College South Campus

College of Health Sciences Building Room # C112

956-721-5262