- B. 6 W's—Beginning Fall 2007; students cannot drop more than 6 classes throughout their college career. Any subsequent drops will become F's. The rule includes credits earned at all Texas colleges/universities, and W's will carry over when transferring to other institutions.
- C. Finishing on time—The State expects students to graduate on time. Students who obtain 90 or more credit hours at a Community College are no longer eligible for financial aid.

Assignments:

Final grade will not be rounded to the nearest whole number.

Students are expected to turn in completed assignments on time. The course instructor may extend the deadline if notified of catastrophic circumstances prior to the due date. Students are to expect point deduction for each day that the assignment is late at the discretion of the course instructor.

Students are expected to read chapters and answer the end of chapter questions before coming into class the day the chapter is covered. It is at the discretion of the instructor to collect questions for an assignment grade.

Quizzes and Exams:

Unannounced quizzes may be given at the discretion of the Instructor. Missed quizzes may not be made up (no exceptions).

If a student misses an exam, it will be up to the discretion of the Instructor as to how the missed exam will be made up. It is also at the discretion of the Instructor to determine if a student will receive a penalty for a late exam. A student who knows that they will be absent on a scheduled exam date should arrange an appointment with the Instructor to discuss the options, before the missed exam.

Attendance:

Students are expected to have regular and punctual attendance at all classes. Classes start promptly and tardiness is unacceptable. Consistently entering or leaving the room when lecture or a presentation has begun is disruptive and reflects disregard towards others. The student is responsible for obtaining missed material when absent from class and held responsible for regularly checking CANVAS for course-related matters. A student who offers no explanation for an absence will have that absence classified as unexcused with a grade of zero awarded for any tests, assignment or classroom work which occurs or is due during such absence with no opportunity to make up work that was missed. Specific attendance policies for classes are explained in the syllabus for each course. Refer to course syllabus.

It is the student's responsibility to contact the instructor for missed class sessions. Lack of communication can result in un-excuses absences.

Written Work:

Written work must follow the specific style of the 6th edition of the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA) unless otherwise specified by the Instructor. This includes but is not limited to: cover page, table of contents 12 point font, double-spacing, APA reference list and Times New Roman font. Failure to submit written work that is well organized, concise, accurate, substantive, within designated page limits, and free from errors in spelling, grammar and sentence structure will result in point deductions beyond those made for content. The Yeary Library provides the LCC student with the necessary resources for APA style. You may also use a citation website such as <http://citationmachine.net/>.

Written work must be cited appropriately. The use of reputable resources is required. Resources such as Wikipedia, personal home pages, etc. are not considered valid resources and will not be allowed.

Oral Presentations:

Students are required to demonstrate professionalism during oral presentations. The presenter should dress properly; avoid reading directly from the choice of media and use appropriate terminology. Proper grammar use is expected. Audience members should demonstrate courteous and respectful behavior(s) to the presenter. Texting, talking, and working on other materials during presentations will not be tolerated. Presentations are required. A student who does not show up for the presentation will receive a grade of a zero and will not be able to make up the assignment. All presentations will be turned in on expected due date through CANVAS.

CANVAS

This is a web-enhanced course that utilizes Canvas. The student is expected to log into Canvas on a regular basis for announcements, assignment submission, access to notes and worksheets, email communication, etc. Please ensure you have reliable access to the Internet. The LCC Fort McIntosh Campus and the South Campus both have numerous computer labs with Internet access. Check www.laredo.edu for more information on computer labs, location and availability.
